mahilamandals, yuvamandals, should become more actively involved in propagating against the alarming spread of AIDS. They should be involved in providing information, behavioural change, communication, counseling and youth friendly services that encourage self-protection, abstinence and delayed sexual activity.

AIDS touches all sectors of society. To ensure that families and communities can build up the immunity to withstand the impact of AIDS will require the joint effort of every member of the family and community. This epidemic is not to be considered as just a public health concern. It can reverse decades of development. It strikes hardest the countries least able to resist. The greatest misfortune is the loss it makes on the human factor. The incidence of AIDS continues to worsen and no sector of community remains untouched by the disease.

DRUGS ABUSE PROGRAMME

The organisation conducted the programme in Samastipur District of Bihar State. The use of psychoactive substances for obtaining relief from emotional tension or physical discomfort or for gaining new experience has been known since time immemorial. Between three and four per cent of the world's population regularly consume illegal drugs and the number of countries affected is growing.

CONSUMER PROTECTION PROGRAMME

The organization conducted the programme in Samastipur District of Bihar State. Every individual, whether rich or poor, is a Consumer from the moment of his birth till his death, because we are constantly in need of "Goods and Products" on the one hand & "services" on the other for our daily sustenance. It is therefore but proper that all of us should become aware of our rights as a consumer of goods and services.

One significant reason for the spread of consumer awareness in our country has been the enactment of unique Legislation, the Consumer Protection Act in December 1986. The preamble to the Act states that it is intended to provide better protection of the interest of consumer and for the speedy settlement of disputes. It also goes on to add that it is intended to promote and protect certain specific rights of consumers. It will be as well for us to understand our basic rights as consumers, which the Consumer Protection Act proposes to promote and protect. These are: -

- ❖ Right to safety i.e., protection against marketing of goods which are hazardous to life and property.
- ❖ Right to Information about the quality, potency, purity standards and price of goods to protect the Consumer against unfair trade practices.

RURAL WATER SAFETY & HEALTH WORK SHOP

Water is one of the most vital needs of living creatures. No one can survive in absence of water. In India the rural people facing a lots of problems. One of them is the problem, of the less availability of safe water. In rural areas the problem of safe water is of two levels - one is the proper availability of water and the other is the quality of drinking water. The Gramin Samaj Kalyan Sansthan conducted a seminar on RURAL WATER SAFETY. Through this seminar the rural people were trained to how they can use the safe water. We are conducted health camp and organization discuss how to effect water our health. Safe and clean drinking water is most important things our health. To make the people self-reliant, regular trainings were imparted to traditional practitioners and various herbal plants
